

Frats Offer 5-Point Plan to Cherry Tree

Council Seeks Compromise in Yearbook Rift

By BRUCE BRYAN

• ACTING swiftly in an attempt to effect a compromise between its group and the Cherry Tree administrative staff, the Interfraternity Council at a session held last Friday night drew up and approved by motion a five-point program to form the basis upon which the organization and its affiliated members would support the 1941 yearbook publication.

At a meeting Sunday morning, the group appointed a committee of three, headed by Bud Pappenfort, to meet with Cherry Tree editors and bring the groups to an agreement. The other members are Robert Fleming and Carter Bowen.

Five Points Listed

Both actions followed in the wake of a story published in The Hatchet last week, in which it was reported that the Council had upheld a motion to withdraw support of campus Greek letter fraternities from the publication.

The five points set forth by the Interfraternity delegates are:

1. That the Council have a representative on the Cherry Tree board;
2. That an arrangement be made to use the same individual pictures in succeeding years; also that individual formal pictures be required of each fraternity;
3. That the Council secure for each fraternity one full page devoted solely to the fraternity represented on that page;
4. That two full pages facing each other be devoted to special features of the individual fraternities, such as large dances, the Interfraternity prom, and athletic contests;
5. That the fee for pictures be set at a maximum of one dollar.

Pappenfort, speaking for his committee, said: "We will attempt to carry on negotiations on the basis of recommendations made Friday night."

In a further statement it was said, "We hope to get reasonable concessions on all points put forth for which we are working. The Cherry Tree last year was unsatisfactory and has been so for this year. The financial conditions have not been satisfactory, and are still not satisfactory."

Harold Hudson, president of Interfraternity, stressed the fact that the Council is not "antagonistic" toward the present Cherry Tree staff, but that the situation had happened to "come to a head" this year.

Hudson Answers

Hudson, in the meanwhile, has countered a statement in last week's Hatchet attributed to Anne Thomas, editor-in-chief of the yearbook, with a letter addressed to Anne decrying the differences which separate the Cherry Tree staff and the Interfraternity Council are real," he said, "they, nevertheless, could probably be reconciled."

Stressing the fact that financial arrangements are considered unsatisfactory, Hudson continued, "General displeasure was voiced by the delegates at the financial arrangements. This is a serious matter to which you must give due consideration if the member chapters of the Council are to participate in the school yearbook."

"All the Greek-letter social organizations have borne an unjustly large share of the financial burden of the Cherry Tree. This year the groups alone would contribute approximately fifteen hundred dollars. The incidence of cost has not been satisfactorily shifted from the fraternities."

Hudson concluded with the statement that the delegates of the Council are willing to participate in the Cherry Tree "provided a reasonable and just financial basis is worked out."

Hudson also denied that a motion was passed at the Dec. 15 meeting, which would withdraw support of campus fraternities from the Cherry Tree.

Financing the Cherry Tree

• THE FINANCIAL BOYCOTT placed on the Cherry Tree by the Interfraternity Council may (but probably won't) be abandoned by the time these words reach print. Because the situation seriously threatens the existence of a University publication, we cannot stand idly by and vainly hope the problem will be resolved of itself.

Conference Is Necessary

The Cherry Tree and the Interfraternity Council must by all means get together this week and reach an agreement. The Student Council showed the proper initiative in sponsoring a conference between the two parties late last week. Unfortunately, the fraternity group sent only one representative and he was powerless to do anything more than "observe" the proceedings for a report to his organization. The conference quite naturally accomplished nothing.

Another effort should be made immediately to adjust the dispute, with the cooperation of both parties. A thorough discussion will probably reveal that the differences are not as great as supposed. A careful study reveals that the new plan for the Cherry Tree is fundamentally sound. The pages are larger this year, wasted white space is eliminated, the book is brightened, informal shots are scattered throughout the book—according to the plans. Furthermore, the cost to each organization is less than formerly.

Increase Graduation Fee

Though this dispute can and should be settled satisfactorily without drastic action, it raises the fundamental problem of how the Cherry Tree is to be financed. The present system, whereby the burden of the cost is placed on the Greek-letter organizations, is certainly not a good one. The best plan would seem to be adding three dollars to the graduation fee, requiring all graduates to purchase copies of the yearbook. This will shift the cost of the Cherry Tree from the fraternities and sororities to the seniors—from organizations to circulation.

If the staff can produce an interesting book, there is no reason why the graduating students should not be compelled to buy the Cherry Tree and gladly submit to such a requirement. Such is the plan successfully used at many of the country's outstanding universities. Why shouldn't it work here?

University Suspends Classes Monday

• CLASSES WILL NOT be held Monday due to inauguration ceremonies here. They will be resumed Tuesday. Final exams in courses will begin Saturday, Jan. 25 and continue through the next week. Last day of classes for the first semester will be Wednesday, Jan. 22; there being a two-day study period before exams.

Cherry Tree Goes Ahead With Plans

Annual Seeks Greatly Increased Circulation; Brochures Ready

• IN SPITE of the trouble that the Cherry Tree seems to be encountering with the Interfraternity Council, plans are going right ahead, as scheduled. The collection of material and pictures is being carried in line with the new policy of the yearbook.

As previously announced, the yearbook will be larger than the annuals of previous years. The page size will be increased in size from 7 1/2 to 10 1/2 inches to 9 by 12 inches. The pattern of the current popular Life Magazine will be followed in that a great deal of the book will have informal pictures and much less textual comment.

Fred Youngblood, business manager of the Cherry Tree, said that the brochures are now ready for distribution to the various organizations on the campus. These brochures will explain the new plan of the book so that a larger number of people will be adequately informed about the plan. A much increased circulation is the aim of the book besides having a larger number of groups take space in the book. The editors of the book will meet with the major organizations in order to explain the new plan in person besides distributing the brochures.

Any persons who applied for the business staff and haven't received assignments are asked to get in touch with Youngblood, RE. 2368. Any others who are interested in working on the Cherry Tree should contact Anne Thomas, editor, any day between 2 and 4 in the Cherry Tree office, third floor of Building B.

Sigma Chi Makes Sacrifice; Sends Five Away With Army

• INDUCTED INTO ARMY service with the 26th Regiment of the Coast Artillery, District National Guard, five members of Sigma Chi, social fraternity, were to leave early this week for Fort Bliss, Texas, to go on active duty with the armed forces of the United States.

Heading the group is Captain Gus Johnson. With him, and holding the rank of second lieutenant, are Bob Linehan, Peyton Lucas, Jim Nichols and Jack Schultz. The latter were commissioned as officers after successfully passing an examination given by the Army Examining Board early in December.

A sixth member of the fraternity, Harry Ford, is expected to go on active duty as a lieutenant in the Maryland Infantry some time next month.

Johnson, a native of Kentucky, entered the University in 1936, and in addition to fraternal work was also active in other phases of campus life. In addition to working on the staffs of both the weekly and annual publications, he was in 1938 editor of the Handbook. He is also a member of Omicron Delta Kappa, honorary leadership fraternity.

A veteran of 10 years' service in the National Guard, he was recently elevated to the rank of captain, and recently completed an Army course at Edgewood Arsenal, Maryland. Linehan, in 1938, was elected an associate editor of The Hatchet, and in the same year served as president of Pi Delta Epsilon, honorary journalism fraternity. In 1937 he had been designated for outstanding first year work in journalism, and was awarded a gold key in recognition of his work.

Two of the officers are pinned to University girls, Connie Oesch and Nancy Whitmore, both of Pi Beta Phi sorority, having the pins of Linehan and Schultz, respectively. Nichols is pinned to Eleanor Magee, a student at the Chevy Chase Junior College.

Buff Crush 'Birds, 46-31, In Columbia

COLUMBIA S. C., Jan. 13—Continuing their relentless pace against Southern Conference opposition, the Colonial eagles made it two in a row on their swing through the South by walloping the University of South Carolina Gamecocks, 46-31, here tonight.

As the third battle on their road trip, the Buffmen will take on Clemson College in the South Carolina city tomorrow night. Games with Furman tomorrow and Duke Thursday night complete the jaunt. The score was tied four times in the early moments of tonight's game but the Colonials turned the contest into a rout in the second half. The Buffmen led 20-14 at the half.

Lou Veltri, senior guard, led the Buff attack with 19 points but was hard pressed for honors by Ed Amendola, forward, who tallied 10 markers. Pres Westmoreland, South Carolina forward, proved the greatest threat to the Buff as he scored 15 points to top both teams' point makers.

Frosh Top Terps

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Jan. 13—The Buff frosh eagles scored their seventh straight win of the season tonight by defeating the University of Maryland frosh, 35-26 here tonight. The Colonial yearling led 18-5 at the half. Syl Barnett, Buff guard, was top scorer with ten points.

Fall Results In Operation On Dr. Ragatz

• A FALL down the steps in the Hall of Government "some time back" necessitated an operation on Dr. Lowell J. Ragatz, popular European History Professor, during the Christmas vacation, according to a letter received from the mentor by The Hatchet, last week.

"In groping my way down the dark steps from the fourth floor, I fell on the steps and was badly injured internally," he wrote. Dr. Ragatz stated that the lights in the building stairways had been turned out by the janitor.

At present, Dr. Ragatz is resting at the University Hospital but will be moved to his home soon.

Though he has not been able to meet his classes, Dr. Ragatz has not been put completely out of commission. Despite his injury he has been correcting exams and will grade his classes' finals.

In Dr. Ragatz' absence, Professor Emeritus George M. Churchill is conducting the New Europe course and the Seminar in International Congress of the 19th and 20th centuries. Prof. Howard Merriman is conducting the class in Modern Imperialism, and Mr. Edward Younger is taking over the class in Economic History of Europe.

Well-known in historical circles, Dr. Ragatz was recently reelected for the fifteenth consecutive year as Editor of the American Historical Association, the chief professional body in the historical field in the world. The AHA has a membership of nearly 4,000.

Eight Make Debate Team

• AFTER A FULL WEEK of try-out eliminations, Professor Henry G. Roberts, Varsity Debate Coach, announced that the Intercollegiate Squad will be made up of Edgar Baker, Christian Bromberg, Edward Butler, Frank Curley, Daniel Fustfeld, Robert Geran, Mike McKool, and Cole Reasin.

Bromberg, Curley, Fustfeld, McKool, and Reasin are veterans of debate, while Baker, Butler, and Geran are on the squad for the first time.

These eight were selected from a group of 14 students who entered the try-outs. The contestants were divided into three affirmative and four negative teams on the question: "Resolved, That the Nations of the Western Hemisphere Shall Form a Permanent Union."

Lost And Found Office Liquidates

• ALL ARTICLES now held by the Lost and Found Office, in the basement of Building D will be released by the University by the beginning of the next semester unless claimed before then.

Clothing will be given to some charity and all books will be sold. As yet, nothing has been decided about the future of the fountain pens on hand.

Dr. Naeser Elected

• DR. CHARLES NAESER, of the Chemistry department, was recently appointed District Counselor of Alpha Chi Sigma, national professional chemical society, an organization of about 25,000 chemists. It was announced by the University last week.

Center's Conference Continues

Experts Discuss Security of New World This Year

• THE FOURTH ANNUAL Pan American Conference, under the sponsorship of the University's Inter-American Center, began yesterday and is being continued today in the auditorium of the United States Chamber of Commerce.

"New World Security: Military, Cultural, and Economic Defense of the Western Hemisphere" is the subject being considered by this year's conference.

Lt. Col. Matthew B. Ridgeway will speak tonight in place of Chief of Staff George C. Marshall, originally scheduled to appear, who found his official duties too pressing to allow his participation. Lt. Col. Ridgeway will talk on "The American Aspect of New World Defense."

Caldwell on Program

Other speakers include Robert Granville Caldwell, former Minister to Portugal and Brazil, and now an important official in the Council of National Defense, and George Elliot Quisenberry, vice-president and director of the Business Publishers International Corporation.

The University faculty's representatives tonight are Henry Gratton Doyle, Dean of Columbian College, Robert W. Bolwell, Professor of American Literature, and Alan T. Delbert, Associate Professor of Romance Languages.

George Howard Cox, Director of the Inter-American Center, made the introductory remarks at the opening session last night, before Dr. Cloyd Heck Marvin, President of the University, took over as chairman of the discussion. William C. Johnston, Dean of the Junior College; Cabell Van Vleet, Dean of the University Law School, and Frederick M. Felker, Dean of the University School of Engineering participated last night.

Panel discussions follow the formal addresses each evening. The conference is open to the public, and invitations may be obtained by communicating with Director Cox.

D. A. R. Offers Loan Fund To Students

• WITH A LOAN FUND of $1,200 untouched for the entire college year, Mrs. William T. Clark, state chairman of the Daughters of American Revolution loan fund, has notified the University that students meeting requirements may borrow up to $500 from the fund for the furtherance of educational activities.

In a telephone call to The Hatchet office last week, Mrs. Clark revealed that the fund is for University students only, either men or women, and set forth the following qualifications:

1. That the student must be a descendant of a patriot of the American Revolution.
2. One or more semesters in the University must have been completed.
3. Applications for next semester's tuition must be filed at once.
4. Prospective borrowers must get in touch immediately with the Comptroller's office.

Loans to any one student cannot exceed $500. Borrowers must sign a note for the amount, and furnish three character references. Notes are to be repaid at the rate of $5 per month for the first year after graduation, the amount then increasing to $10 per month until the loan is paid in full.

Religious Council Starts Its Campaign for Library Books

• FIVE HUNDRED DOLLARS worth of religious books will be placed on the shelves of the University Library, if the plan of the Religious Council is carried through successfully.

The books will be called the William Allen Wilbur Collection in recognition of Professor Emeritus Wilbur's work in organizing the University's religious clubs during his years on the faculty. As professor, dean, and provost, Dean Wilbur played an outstanding role in University affairs.

Dr. Raymond John Seeger, faculty adviser to the religious clubs and director of chapel, stated: "The merits of the plan speak for themselves."

Contributions to Help

The fund will be raised by contributions of campus organizations, individual solicitations, and donations by outside groups. Any individuals wishing to contribute money may do so by contacting Elise Fisher, president of the Religious Council, or any member. All books will be selected by a committee permanently composed of the University Librarian, the president of the Religious Council and the chapel director, Librarian John Russell Mason, Elise Fisher and Dr. Seeger will compose this year's committee. Each selection must be unanimously approved.

This collection will be added to from year to year, and all contribu-

Men's Dormitory Will Be Opened Next Semester

Pledge Prom Features Cup Presentations

• THE FRATERNITY pledges will forsake their humble status to do justice to the Interfraternity Pledge Prom from 9:30 to 1 a.m. on Friday night.

Defying the superiority of their active brothers and coming into a limelight all their own, the pledges will shine in all the pomp and glory of the Hall of Nations in the Washington Hotel. The traditional Grand March set to the tune of Wally Hughes' orchestra will be led by Marshall Gardner, Tau Kappa Epsilon representative, who is President of the Interfraternity Pledge Council, and Jim Boggs, Kappa Alpha pledge, the Social Chairman.

At the intermission three cups will be awarded. Two cups will be presented to the two fraternity pledge classes who won the ping-pong tournament. The first cup will go to the pledges of SAE, and the second one will honor the Sigma Chi pledges. Tau Sigma Rho wins a cup for having had the best pledge skit in the pledge smoker.

Each delegate of the Pledge Council will be awarded a key for his illustrious work entering the year. Mrs. Roosevelt has been sent an invitation and it is rumored she may attend.

English Dept. May Support Play Contest

• WAXING ENTHUSIASTIC over Cue and Curtain's second annual one-act play-writing contest, plans are now being formulated by the English Department which would grant extra credit to students in the English classes entering the contest, according to Allen L. Dewey, president of the dramatic group.

At the same time Dewey announced that the deadline for entries has been advanced to Feb. 15, to avoid interference with final exams. Announced early in December, the contest is open to all students enrolled in the University.

Subject matter may deal with either tragic or comic treatment, and must not be more than thirty-five minutes in playing time. All scripts should be mailed to Allen Dewey, 1128 16th St. N.W., before the deadline.

The title page must include the writer's name, address, telephone number, and class of the University in which enrolled. Manuscripts should be double spaced, and on one side of the paper only.

In addition to awarding prizes for the most outstanding works, the amateur production will be featured in the next major production program of the group. Production rights will remain with the author.

Floyd L. Sparks, graduate director of the group, has emphasized that all plays must be stageable, and that any questions arising in this angle should be presented to him.

Judges will be members of the faculty of the English Department of the University.

First Dorm Here Will House Only Fourteen Men

• AS AN EXPERIMENT to test reaction, a small residence hall for men will be opened at the start of the second semester, it was announced yesterday. The University has purchased the property at 717 Twenty-second Street and will furnish the building at that site to accommodate 14 men.

The opening of the miniature dorm may be regarded as the first step to house male students on the campus. Charles Edgar Merry, University Business Manager, stated that extension of the program would depend mainly on student response to the new facilities.

Reasonable Rent

He added that the rents would be extremely reasonable, averaging close to $12.50 a month per student, some being a little over this figure and some a little less.

The rooms contain high-quality furniture, Mr. Merry said. Washroom facilities will be ample. A telephone, also, will be installed.

The building is two stories high and will have three rooms for students on the first floor with four more on the second. Prof. W. DeWitt Bennett, Chairman of the Student Life Committee, is in charge of applications for residence in the new building and students interested in participating in the University's new venture may get in touch with him. Prof. Bennett's office is in Columbian House on the second floor.

Need for Dorm Checked

"Strong Hall, women's dormitory, was opened in 1936. No provisions were made for housing men. The new program, Mr. Merry emphasized, is for the purpose of discovering if there is a real need for men's quarters here. Not since the University moved to its present site has a men's dormitory existed.

A graduate student, as yet unnamed, will live in the house with the student roomers.

Hann Speaks To Sigma Xi On Thursday

• DR. RAYMOND M. HANN, of the National Institute of Health, will speak before the regular open meeting of Sigma Xi, national honorary science fraternity, Thursday night at 8:15 in Cor. 39. His topic will be "Interesting Facts About Sulphanilamide."

Dr. Hann worked his way through college, receiving his Master's degree in one year and receiving his doctorate in Chemistry from Johns Hopkins. After graduation he worked for the Department of Agriculture and the Mellon Institute of Pittsburgh.

Since 1929 Dr. Hann has been a research chemist at the National Institute of Health. Last year he was elected president of the Washington Chemical Society for 1940.

Typing Class Begins Next Semester

• ESTABLISHMENT of a laboratory for two journalism courses and inauguration of classes in typing and shorthand, both to become effective at the start of the second semester, have been announced by University President Cloyd Heck Marvin.

The laboratory and classrooms for the added courses will be established at 2113 H St., in property recently purchased by the University. Dr. Marvin said.

The Reporting course, taught by John W. Thompson, Jr., lecturer in Journalism, and the Journalism Survey Course, given by Mrs. Marcelle LeMenger Lane, assistant professor of Journalism and Executive Officer for the Department, will be housed in the building.

Stork Delivers Junior Partner To Herzogs

• THE NAME is Henry William (Bucky) Herzog, SENIOR, now, The youthful comptroller of the University is "holding up well" after an eight pound four ounce boy was born to his wife, the former Betty Nutter, at Garfield Hospital Saturday night. Mother and son—and father—are doing well.

Henry Junior is a first son. He has a sister, Helene Garland, age two.

Mrs. Herzog, A.B. '37, was a Pi Beta Phi here. Her husband, B.S. 1930, was a member of Theta Upsilon Omega Fraternity, now merged with S.P.E.

Five Baskets!

• THE UNIVERSITY FOOD DRIVE, sometimes called the Student Council Food Drive, has been considered a laudable undertaking. As such, it has been generally immune from attack. Minor irregularities can be overlooked when an organization does a good job of spreading needed comfort during the Christmas season, etc., etc.

But persistently, year after year, following each Food Drive Christmas basket distribution, there have been stories indicating serious irregularities in the administration thereof. For instance, this year a member of the distribution committee reports that one home scheduled to receive a basket was in a swanky apartment house, and the resident thereof was vastly astonished at being on any welfare list. At another address, the University committee was the fifth organization to show up with a basket.

Such stories do not necessarily indicate that the whole idea is worthless, or that members of the Food Drive have not been working in good faith. But they do indicate the need of open, impartial and forceful investigation of the methods and procedures of the Food Drive. There should be no "hush, hush, it's all for a good cause" smoothing over of complaints and acknowledged irregularities. The Christmas season is long past; no prospective needy recipients will possibly be deprived of assistance by a reorganization at this time.

If the Food Drive is to continue a worth-while endeavor, it should track down and eliminate the causes of alleged mismanagement. And the time to do so is now, not next Christmas season.

New and Approved

• THE PLAN of the Council of Religious Organizations for placing religious books in the Library is a worthy one, deserving the support of all students and organizations.

The University Library is decidedly lacking in many fields and one of these is in books on religion. Yet such books should by all means be made available for those who are solicitous for their spiritual as well as mental development while in the University. The Hatchet wishes the project success.

Also to the credit of the University this week is the newly proposed Men's Dorm. It is rather disappointing to find that the first unit is on such a small scale, but it does constitute a first step toward a long-needed campus institution.

Condemnation

By RAY ARCENEAUX

A billion words of fiery script,
A billion pages printed bold.
A billion soldiers, tensely lippled,
A billion markers, white and cold.

The noble thought, so often born
In humble men and great;
"I shall stop them by my scorn!"
"My pen their battles dissipate!"

But higher grows the lofty stack
Of penetrating, "newborn" thought
"To show the world the peaceful track—"
"To stop the war from being fought."

And as the wearied pensmen labor
To carve immortal inspiration
A general drops his vanquished saber,
Seals the fate of vanquished nation.

"There, I told you! Read those pages!"
"Those, I tell you, curbed the fighting!"
"Guard them for the coming ages."
"When blackened skies again need lighting."

A billion worthless, cliché phrases,
Sentence taken out of pawn,
To "lead the world from bloody mazes,"
As the wars go marching on.

Author's Note: This poem was written in contempt of the group of self-styled pacifists who arise during every great war "to lead the nations of the world back to peace." The great majority of these writers do not have a true interest in peace, but merely seek to gain personal attention and publicity. In order to gain this end, they add agitation to an already troubled world by propaganda, by exaggeration, and by wilful employment of untruths.

French Club Initiates Nine

• LE CERCLE FRANCAIS held its initiation and luncheon for new members at the Iron Gate Inn last Saturday afternoon. Nine new members were initiated. They were Mary Bleasmer, Ethel Gilmore, Roland Given, Frederick Harpock, Marjorie Matthews, Kenneth Sva, Helen Tracie, Helen Voorze and Barbara Weers.

The luncheon was well attended by old members of the club and faculty members. Manuel Mendez, president, spoke about the many ways in which members of the various French organizations could assist the mother country in these troubled times.

Alpha Chi Sigma

• HAROLD R. MULLIN was re-elected Master Alchemist of Alpha Chi Sigma, professional chemistry fraternity, at a meeting Friday night in Corcoran Hall. Donald Brasted, the new semester's Vice Master Alchemist, also succeeded himself.

Riding Club Elects

• THE RIDING CLUB will hold a meeting tomorrow, Jan. 15, in D-207 at 8 o'clock. Important business will be transacted at this meeting including the election of a new president to replace Bob Little who resigned at the last meeting. New policies for the club will be discussed.

OF MANY Things

By ALBERT TATE, Jr.

(Below is another in a series of essays by Mr. Tate, a student in the University, presenting his individual views on various campus subjects. Other students are invited to contribute similar material which they believe will be of interest to Hatchet readers.—The Editors.)

Typewriters and Tests

• THIS IS supposedly a modern university. Yet in an age when people increasingly use the typewriter in preference to the pen, examinations are still taken only by hand.

Those of us who rely almost entirely on the typewriter for our private writing find that our handwriting deteriorates considerably; our instructors, to their woe, discover this too. Since the inevitable result of disuse is deterioration, there seems little remedy for our longhand—unless the University expects us not to use the typewriter, which, of course, would be ridiculous.

It would seem, then, that the best way to get legible tests from students who can type but who are unable to write in an easily readable hand, would be to let them type the test. This column has asked the heads of two departments around school, and both department heads agreed that the typing of tests would be preferable in those cases from every point of view.

Obviously, it would be unfair to non-typing students to have a bunch of clacking typewriters in the same room with them. On the other hand, most typists are not disturbed by the noise of other machines. Therefore it would seem that the typing test-takers should be segregated by themselves, say in the English writing laboratory.

The instructor would take down in advance the names of those intending to type the test, and he would send this list with the proper number of tests to the laboratory. At the laboratory, the students would identify themselves by student books or signatures, get the examination, and then have the regulation time in which to finish it.

Miscellaneous

Speaking of tests, what's happened about that "Free Blue Book" plank of the Reform Party's platform? Isn't it about time for some sort of a report? This column has heard reports that the Wandering Greeks are going to get up some sort of an organization and possibly petition for Interfraternity and Panhellenic recognition. Rime found on the back of a blue book:

Sweet Lulu Belle did flirt and yawn,
While Abigail did study.
The latter reaps when finals dawn,
Then all the world's her buddy.
But Lulu has a date each night,
While Abby puts all males to flight.
(Except when finals all boys blight);
And finals come but twice a year,
While every day's fit for a leer.

Elsie Carper Speaks to Round Table Association

• THE SPEAKERS BUREAU has quietly gotten off to a flying start this year with its most popular subject being "Why France Fell," most ably discussed by Elsie Carper, a veteran of the Women's Varsity Debate Team. Elsie spoke on this subject before the Washington Round Table Association and will do so again for the Parthia Women's Club, Feb. 13.

On past engagements, Carl Jacob discussed "Mexico" for the Stanton Citizen's Association; Jean Allen gave dramatic readings at the Sunshine and Community Society of the District and the Women's Club of Sixteenth Street, Highland; Carl Estes spoke on "Anglo to England Now" before the congregation of the Ingram Memorial Church; and Monday, Bob Geran pointed out "Historical Places in Central Washington" to the Logan-Thomas Citizens Association.

Jean Allen, head of the Speakers' Bureau, has assignments scheduled through the end of this semester and into the beginning of next semester. On Feb. 6, Carl Jacob will redeliver his talk on "Mexico" for the Quaker Church; Charlene Daily will give dramatic Readings for the Sunshine and Community Society of the District; Harry Palmer will discuss "How to Solve Washington Traffic Problems" with the Washington Automotive Trade Association, and on Jan. 28 will lead a discussion on the same topic for The Hampshire Heights Citizens Association.

Alpha Kappa Psi Holds Initiation

• KEARY HILL, Bob Menely and Fred Youngblood were initiated into Alpha Kappa Psi, professional commerce fraternity for men, at a banquet given by the organization Sunday afternoon.

Present at the ceremonies were active members of the Beta Mu chapter, faculty members, and guests from the local alumni organization.

Willis O. Davis, acting president of the group, has announced that the next meeting will be held Jan. 22, at 8:30 p. m., in Columbian House. Mr. Charles McCormick, president of the McCormick Company of Baltimore, and a national director of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce will be the principal speaker. He has selected as his subject "Multiple Management," which is a system of internal administration used in the McCormick Company.

Treatise on Sniffles

By A. FELLOW SUFFERER

• SAY, FOLKS—I just joined a fresh Greek letter organization, and what a group! They're sweeping the campus by storm—rushing simply everyone. Oh, don't feel abashed if they haven't rushed you yet. They will! Such a democratic bunch I've never seen before. Seems that they call themselves "I gotta sniffle" chapter.

You don't have to be a glamour girl or a "page out of Esquire" boy to make the frat. You can be cross-eyed or have buck teeth and still become a shining example of the typical member. Or, you may be a queen of hearts or the campus lover, and be a brother or sister in good standing.

All you need have is a cough that shakes you to the very tips of your toes each time the danged thing attacks you. Too, you need a healthy case of sniffles—plus watery eyes and a peeled-onion nose effect. If you could average a sneeze about once every 30 seconds, the active members couldn't resist you.

To be a good pledge, though, you'd have to promise to spread the gospel of the frat to all of your associates and contacts, no matter by what method. You'd have to stalk the halls with a half-dead expression, scrupulously canvassing for new members.

And you would have to swear on a stack of Kleenex to stay away from Doc. Castell, who does all sorts of delicious things to your nose and who some accuse of spreading propaganda against our beloved frat.

Do you think you could fill the bill? Do your qualifications meet the exacting requirements of our new fraternity? Would you enjoy miserable company once a week? If so, the next meeting will be held in wards X, Y, and Z of the University hospital next Saturday night, at which time we shall consult with the weather man about arrangements for snow on inauguration day. We need new blood—as the first little mosquito said to the second little mosquito.

Engineering Balcony Notes

By MURRAY BERDICK

• THETA TAU had a banquet Saturday night, at which Dean Feiler gave an informal, but serious, report on the progress of the Engineering School during the past year, and its plans for the future. The Dean broke precedent by telling one of his stories claiming that he had heard it from one of his sons, rather than one of his daughters, as is usual.

The enrollment this fall marks an increase of 45 per cent over last fall's—the largest percentage of increase of any engineering school in the country. The Engineering School is serving the government in this crisis by running seven special courses under the national defense program. According to the New York Times, this University started the defense courses a full month before any other school in the country.

By the end of the year, the Engineering School will have served a total of 1,200 students. A new laboratory has been set up in the basement of Corcoran Hall, and much new equipment for surveying and so on has been acquired.

The Dean pointed out that he has well lived up to the title of "The Moocher," which was applied to him in the skit presented at the Engineers' Mixer in the fall. Well, whether you call it "mooching" or anything else, the Engineering School certainly shows the results.

• SIGMA TAU will meet tomorrow at 7 p. m., in D-204. The meeting will be followed at 8 p. m., by a meeting of the Engineers' Council in D-200.

• FOR THE FIRST TIME (and second time, too) in these many months, steam apparatus in the M. E. lab has been turning over! The new steam generator was run last Monday, and again on Friday. The first time the fumes from the generator forced the temporary suspension of drawing classes in the drafting building, but they were back at it after about 15 minutes. By the time Friday rolled around, enough adjustments had been made so that the classes up above weren't bothered by the running of the apparatus.

• SPEAKING OF LABS and stuff, any of you who haven't seen the C. E. lab in the basement of Corcoran ought to drop everything and run down there for a lab. It's really a beauty, in spite of the fact (as Mr. Strollo moans) that there isn't room for another testing machine, if—and when—

Newmanites Will Hold Midwinter Prom Saturday

• THE MIDWINTER PROM of the Newman Club, sponsored by the Newman-initiated members, will be held Saturday night at Hotel 2400. Luke Allen's "Alaskans" will furnish the music, and Newmanite Charles Keane will render some solos. Tickets are $2.00 per couple, or $1.75 only if bought on or before Thursday from the Student Club or members of the committee.

The regular monthly meeting will be held in D-104 at 8:15 p. m., Thursday.

The local club will be host to representatives from all member clubs in the Middle Atlantic province at a meeting in Columbian House at 2:30 p. m., Sunday. Delegates from the Universities of Pennsylvania and Maryland, Randolph-Macon College and Temple University will be present. Province President Ed Kiley, of the local unit, will preside.

Westminster Club Hears Dr. Evans

• THE WESTMINSTER Presbyterian Church of the University held its last formal meeting of the semester Friday night, at which time Dr. D. Hobart Evans, pastor of the Hyattsville Presbyterian Church, gave his rendition of Henry VanDyke's "The Other Wise Man." Dr. Evans is well known for his work with the young people of the District and vicinity. He was Conference Leader last June when the Presbyterian Young People's Conference was held at Hood College. "Hobie" was also a member of the committee which founded the Westminster Club of the University twelve years ago.

Med Honorary Inducts 32 New Members

Three Mentors Are Initiated With Students

• THE SMITH-REED-RUSSELL honorary medical group, at its annual banquet last Tuesday night, inducted thirty-two students of the University School of Medicine into membership. At the same time, three professors were awarded honorary memberships.

The principal speaker at the banquet, celebrating the ninth anniversary of the group, was Gen. Frederick F. Russell, one of those for whom the group is named. General Russell is now a professor of preventive medicine at the Harvard Medical School, and before his retirement was with the U. S. Army Medical Corps.

President Marvin Attends

Presiding at the banquet was Lester Blumenthal, president and senior medical student. Honor guests present were University President Cloyd Heck Marvin, Dr. Walter A. Bloedorn, Dean of the School of Medicine, Dr. Edgar A. Bocock, Mr. Henry P. Erwin, Mr. and Mrs. Joshua Evans, Jr., Dr. William B. King, Maj. Gen. James C. Magee, the Reverend Albert J. McCartney and Mr. Theodore Wiprud.

Others included in the list were Admiral Ross T. McIntire, Admiral Percival S. Rossiter, Admiral Harold W. Smith, Admiral Edward R. Stitt, Captain Luther Sheldon, and Captain Dallas G. Sutton.

Three Profs Honored

Made honorary members of the society were Dr. James F. Mitchell, professor emeritus of surgery; Dr. John F. Trenis, associate in medicine, and Dr. Hyman D. Shapiro, associate in neurology.

Five seniors were awarded active memberships. They were George A. Gray, Bernard Kaufman, Sidney Levine, Richard O. Nelson and Zack W. Sanders.

President Marvin and Doctor Bloedorn presented certificates to the following juniors: Fred B. Agee, Gilbert I. Anderson, Jeanne C. Bateman, Gustavo Bolavai, Francisco J. Castillo, Alex F. Castro, Horace Chaffin, Arthur W. Clateman, Theodore Frankel, Marcus P. Goumas, Marcus I. Howard, Anson R. Hyde, Morris Krucoff, H. James Kurtz, William B. Lettwich, John B. Merriek, Morris I. Michael, Morton H. Rose, Barbara M. Sachs, Cyril A. Schulman, Felix A. Silverstone, John A. Stephens, Oscar Sugar, Henry G. Wagner, Herman R. Weiner, Carl H. Whelan, and Chas. S. White.

Alpha Lambda Delta Elects Sholtes Prexy

• ALPHA LAMBDA DELTA, national honor society for freshmen women, elected Eleanor Sholtes its new president at a meeting Thursday night in the Faculty Club.

The other officers chosen were: Caroline Parkinson, vice president; Helen Duckson, secretary, and Anna Bean, treasurer. Miss Bean was also initiated Thursday.

Reverend Wickey Addresses Chapel At Noon Friday

• THE REV. GOULD WICKIEY, executive secretary of the Council of Church Boards of Education and general secretary of the National Conference of Church Related Colleges, will speak in chapel at 12:10 p. m., Friday in Columbian House.

Dr. Wickey attended Gettysburg College, Gettysburg Theological Seminary, Harvard University and Oxford University. He is a member of Phi Beta Kappa, Phi Delta Kappa, Pi Gamma Mu and the Intercollegiate Association for Education on the Liquor Problem. He was president of Carthage College, Carthage, Illinois, from 1926-29, secretary of the National Lutheran Educational Conference from 1930-35, and is a contributor to various religious and educational publications.

Pre-Medica Hears Dr. Naomi Karnoff

• PRE-MEDICAL students assembled in Columbian House last Friday evening at a regular meeting of Pre-Medica and heard Dr. Naomi Karnoff give a talk on the field of dermatology.

Dr. Karnoff, a graduate of the University Medical School, gave a very interesting talk highlighted by many of her personal experiences in the field of dermatology and allergies.

Coed's Building Gets Donation From Sororities

• A GIFT OF EIGHTY dollars was presented to the Campaign Committee of the Women's Activities Building Fund by the Sorority Hall Council, at the opening meeting of the campus campaign.

The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. William Crane Johnstone last Friday night, and was attended by undergraduate, alumni and faculty members of the committee.

Mrs. Johnstone pointed out to the group that the necessity for the proposed building becomes greater and greater with the increasing gravity of the world situation. "The training and development of women leaders is important to the morale of the nation; due to the increasing part women must take in civic activities," she said.

The members of the committee are: Mrs. William Crane Johnstone, Dr. Katherine Adams, Mrs. Helen Hanford, Miss Ruth Atwell, Miss Jenny Turnbull, Constance Smith, Lelia Hatchett, Kathryn Hershey, and Lily Dhu Cobb.

A luncheon meeting was held yesterday at 12 to make further plans for the campus campaign.

Colonials Invade South; Play Clemson Tonight

• THE COLONIALS, after handily defeating Richmond, engage South Carolina, Clemson, Furman and Duke on last night, tonight, tomorrow, and Thursday nights, respectively.

The Buffmen take with them an impressive record of 7 wins and 2 losses, having only been defeated by the Oklahoma Aggies and Georgetown. They sport an undefeated record as far as Southern Conference opposition is concerned, having defeated 5 teams in a row by lopsided scores.

Not too much opposition is expected from South Carolina and Clemson, but Furman and Duke are liable to cause extensive damage. Furman has a reputation for pulling upsets, and there is a strong possibility that they might score one against the Buff.

Duke Presents Strongest Five

Duke is the team to be feared next week, because, since losing to the Colonials, they have lost only one other game and that was to Wake Forest by a score of 38-35. The ever dangerous Blue Devils will be playing on their home court and will catch the Colonials just as they are finishing their gruelling road trip.

Fireworks can be expected, with the Buffs having a good chance to hand the Reinhardt men their first Southern Conference defeat.

Georgetown pulled a surprise out of the bag last week in the form of Charley Schmidli, who couldn't miss a long shot even if he had tried. He rang up 16 points on 8 long shots made necessary by the close-knit Colonial defense which changed the Hoyas into a popping team all of the second half. So well did the defense and Joe Comer work, that the highly reputed Bill Bornheimer scored a grand total of zero points for the evening.

Amendola, Comer Lead Buff
Amendola and Comer salvaged something out of the 50-42 defeat by playing excellent defensive games and leading the G. W. scorers with 8 points apiece.

Georgetown by winning this game evened the current basketball series at 2 games each, but this slight mistake may soon be rectified when they face the Buff squad next March 5.

INTRAMURALS

• THE INTRAMURAL program under the direction of Joe Krupa added another to its already long list of accomplishments with a swimming meet, held Thursday at the Y. M. C. A. pool. The swimmers under the tutelage of Max Rote inaugurated what Krupa hopes will become an integral part of the intramural program.

Henry Crawford, former Central High School star, ran away with the honors by taking first in the 50-yard breast stroke and the 200-yard free style. He was second in the 50-yard back stroke. All those who are interested in intramural swimming are urged by Mr. Krupa to communicate with him. George Newell won the diving contest.

Terps Beat Wrestlers
Intramural wrestlers visited the University of Maryland last week and engaged their varsity in a series of matches. The Buff team consisted of Bill Howard, Horace O'Donnell, Wilbur Chase, Hank Augustewicz, Mike Monchlovich, and Bob Leonetti. The intramurals succeeded in winning 2 out of 6 bouts with the Terps.

The intramural basketball leagues are still going strong, even though the fraternity cagers are finished for this season. In the Independent League, a merry dog-fight has developed for top honors with several clubs still undefeated as the season nears a close.

Texas Win Cage Tilt
In a thrilling contest with the lead see-sawing back and forth, the Texans defeated the McCabes by a score of 27-26. Katz of the losers was high scorer with 12 points and A. Silverman was high scorer for the winners with 9. In another Independent game the Connecticut Yankees, led by Siebert, defeated the Newman Club by a score of 35 to 21. The final game, a hard fought contest to which the score doesn't do justice, developed between the Choppers and the Redskins, with the former coming out on top by a 12-point margin, winning 36-24.

In the Flower League, the Daises defeated the Lillies 28-18, and the Tulips won over the Pansies by a forfeit when the Pansies failed to appear at game time.

Draft Law Gets Al Lucyk, Hatchet Sports Columnist

• THE NATION'S first peace-time draft law reached into the University last week and nabbed a Hatchet staff member. Elias Alexander "Al" Lucyk, sports columnist, was drafted as one of the 150 men who form the District's January quota.

Lucyk and his fellow selectees left the city last Saturday for Baltimore where they were inducted into the army. The Hatchet writer was ranked 32nd on his board list by the national lottery in October. Regarding his entrance into Uncle Sam's forces, Lucyk stated that he was glad to get an opportunity to serve in the army. "I might even enlist for three more years after my year of service," he added.

Busick's Cards
• PUBLICITY DIRECTOR Johnny Busick came up with a novel idea in the line of Christmas cards for this season. The school's press bureau man had Cartoonist Jim Berryman, of a local paper, draw a Busick likeness on the card. It showed Busick seated behind a drum beating it out for G. W. U. and wishing everyone a happy Xmas.

Buff Courtmen Go on Road; Whip Spiders

By TOM McCALL

• RICHMOND, Jan. 11.—Hitting the victory trail again tonight, the Colonials opened their five-game road trip against Southern Conference quint, by overpowering the previously undefeated Richmond Spiders, 58-36, before an overflow crowd of 4,000 spectators at Milliser gymnasium.

Pre-game favorites, Coach Bill Reinhardt's five trailed the Spiders until midway in the first half, when they knotted the count at 13-all, and then took the lead with a powerful surge to take a commanding 26-17 halftime advantage.

Led by forward Erickson, Richmond went ahead 5-0, 7-3, and 9-6 in the early stages, but Joe Comer dropped in a snowbird, and Eddie Amendola added a basket and a free throw to tie the game up at 11 apiece.

Colonials Lead, 26-17 At Half
At this point, Lou Veltri, Matt Zunic, Roy McNeil and Amendola took charge to quickly run the score to 26-15, just before the half ended, dimming the Spiders' hopes of stretching their undefeated string to seven straight. A small cheering contingent from Washington, led by feminine cheerleaders Mima Brown and Mary Henshall, was on hand to spur the Colonials on.

Starting the second half with a hot hand by effective under basket work and devastating set shots, the Buffman ran up 20 quick points to only 7 for the demoralized Spiders to lead 48-24. Amendola tallied 8 points, and Comer 9, 7 of them in a row, during this time. Matt Zunic was tossed out on personal fouls, and Reinhardt substituted freely in the remaining minutes.

Amendola, Comer Star
Amendola and Comer starred for the visitors with 13 and 12 points respectively, but Bob Erickson, of Richmond, took high scoring honors with six baskets and three charity points for 15 points. Lou Veltri, with 9, and Matt Zunic, with 7 points, were the other leading Colonial point-makers.

Girl Cheerleaders Lead Local Fans At Richmond Tilt

• TWO COED cheerleaders, Mina Brown and Mary Henshall, appeared in Richmond, Va., Saturday night to lead the few University students in cheers at the Buff-Richmond game, marking the first time that cheerleaders have appeared at the team's road games.

All cheerleaders have received their new monogrammed sweaters and wore them for the first time at the Georgetown game Wednesday night. The girl cheerleaders even led the Georgetown section in cheers one time, furthering the friendly relations between the two schools.

At its meeting Thursday, the pep leaders decided that their squad should function much the same as a club and elected Mike McKool president. A constitution was adopted which provides for seven men and six girls cheerleaders and the club announced that tryouts for male leaders will be held soon.

Sports Ed Helps Name Writers All-American Team

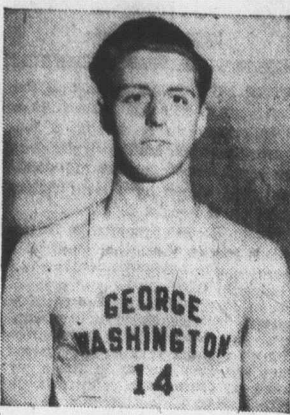

• AS A RESULT of a poll of more than 80 college sports writers, the National Intercollegiate Sports Writers Association announced its 1940 All-American football team last week. Bill Umstead, Hatchet Sports Editor, was one of the writers participating in the selection.

Umstead, was one of the seven writers in the country who picked eight of the players who made the first team. His other choices were named on the second, third and fourth teams. The Hatchet sports scribe was wrong on his selections at right end, right guard, and right halfback, but was right at every other position.

Tom Harmon, Michigan's great back, received more votes than any player, polling 79 out of a possible 80 votes. Close on his heels with 78 votes came John Kimbrough, Texas A. & M.'s hard-hitting fullback.

CAPTAIN JOE COMER

Comer Gains On Zunic In Scoring Race

• ALTHOUGH HE scored only 13 points in the two varsity games last week, Matt Zunic, lanky forward, still holds first place among Colonial scorers with 33 points in 9 games this season. Joe Comer, dependable center, registered 20 points in the two contests and holds second place with 83 points.

Eddie Amendola, new member of the starting lineup, moved up among the leaders as he scored 21 points during the week to bring his season total to 66. Far off last year's pace is Bobby Gilham, junior guard, who is struggling along in fourth place with 48 points. Lou Veltri, the other guard, completes the top five with 44 points to his credit.

Zunic dropped to second place in one scoring department last week but continued to dominate the individual marks. Comer grabbed the lead in goals scored with 35 to Matt's 34, but the fiery Zunic is still tops in foul shots made, average per game and personal fouls. Best performance of the week was Amendola's 13 points total against Richmond Saturday night.

	G.	F. G.	F.	Pts.
Matt Zunic	9	34	25	33
Joe Comer	9	35	12	38
Eddie Amendola	8	29	3	26
Bobby Gilham	9	23	2	48
Lou Veltri	7	19	6	44

Advisor Fetes Tri C's

• THE CAMPUS Colonial Club is being entertained by their faculty advisor, Miss Jenny Turnbull, at a tea from 4 to 6 on Sunday. As this week ends the Tri C Club for this year, the pledges prepared dinner for the actives for the last time on Monday night.

W.A.A. Holds Meet

• BADMINTON, box hockey, table tennis, volley ball, and shuffleboard will be indulged in Thursday night by the University's feminine athletes, at their Intra W. A. A. Sports Evening. The members of the Women's Athletic Association will be divided into two teams and compete against each other in all these activities.

Unbeaten Frosh Edge Hoyas In Thriller, 37-35

By GEORGE BEVERIDGE

• COACH OTTS ZAHN's frosh quint has replaced the varsity cagers in the University's sports spotlight as a result of its win over the highly touted Georgetown freshman in a preliminary to the varsity battle Wednesday night. The win marked the sixth straight victory for the team which is still unbeaten this season.

Junior Coeds Win as Cage Season Starts

• THE JUNIORS emerged victorious by a 30-6 score in their tilt with the freshmen and the senior-sophomore game ended in a hard fought 22-22 tie Saturday as the women's basketball teams opened their class tournament.

A fast and exciting battle was the second game, which was a tie between the seniors and sophomores. Soph guards played outstanding basketball and stars Roselyn Pope and Becky Yobst held last year varsity players Cathy Moore and Ruth Bruner down to three baskets.

Senior high-scorer Jeanne Spaulding was sinking them regularly, hitting a total of 12 points. Tense increased as the second half drew to a close and the seniors, in a spirited rally, overcame the 20-10 lead the sophomores had accumulated at the end of the first half.

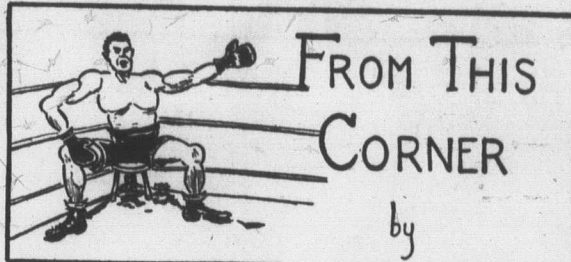

Mary Queally and Gloria McCloskey rendered great service at the soph shooting-end. Captain Queally sinking 6 points and Gloria totalling 12. Virginia Smith and Anne Davis scored one basket apiece in the forward area and Connie Smith and Kay Woodward helped hold the seniors down at the opposite end.

The junior-freshman game ended in a 30-6 win for the juniors as guards Betty Campbell and Camille Craig bottled up the freshmen forwards throughout the entire game. Peggy Kinsman and Marianna Trowbridge with 12 points apiece paced the junior scoring drives.

Dot Travis led in baskets for the frosh with 4 points, Helen Kunkel added 2 more and Betty McCranon, Alberta Morton also saw action as freshman forwards. Some of the freshman distress may be attributed to the injury Dot Travis received early in the game which put her on the bench too much of the time.

Greeks Bowl Soon

• THE INTERFRATERNITY sports council is busily making preparations for the coming Greek sports, and schedules are being drawn up. Bowling will begin on February 8, and ping pong will commence on the following day. Each of the tournaments will last five weeks; the bowling being held on Saturdays and the ping pong on Sundays.

BILL UMSTEAD, Sports Editor

• MISFORTUNE HAS WALKED in the footsteps of Jim Myers ever since the former Indiana basketball flash entered the University. Rated as one of the best prospects to ever wear the Buff uniform, Myers in two years has played in only one game—that with the freshmen last week.

Jimmy was considered one of the greatest high school stars that the state of Indiana ever produced. He ranked on par with Ralph Vaughn, later an All-American at Southern California, Steve Sitko, who blossomed into a star at Notre Dame, and Bobby Gilham, who is doing very well under Coach Bill Reinhardt now. Myers came from Evansville High's state championship team—the same squad that sent Gilham, Charley Jones, and other stars to the University.

Broke Ankle When Frosh Player Last Year

But this promising player never had a chance from the moment he first set eyes on the campus.

Frosh Coach Otts Zahn had high hopes last winter as he watched his yearlings warm up with Myers playing the leading role, but a week before the season opened came the announcement that Myers had broken his ankle in practice. That loss would have proved fatal to a team of less ability than Zahn's quint but the frosh squad was of championship calibre.

When this fall came Jim was showing real style in practice, but Dame Fortune took a hand, and soon Myers was limping on the sidelines with a badly sprained ankle. He sat on the bench during the first two games this year and managed to hobble around in practice between the contests. By the time that the Clemson game came around Myers was again in playing condition. However, it was to no avail.

Declared Ineligible for Varsity, He Joins Frosh Again

Like a thunderbolt, out of the athletic office came the communique—James Myers is ineligible for varsity basketball at the University. When he broke his ankle last fall Jim had been forced to drop some of his studies. Never behind in his grades, Myers was declared ineligible because he had less than 24 semester hours. That's a Southern Conference rule (which the University faithfully upholds) and hard-luck Jimmy with only 19 hours' credit was again out of luck.

The only thing left for him was this year's freshman team and that's where he was last week. He rang up only four points in the few minutes that he played, but a few more games will improve his eagle eye. Coach Bill Reinhardt stated, "Jimmy is a fine prospect and these frosh games will prove of invaluable experience to him in preparation for the varsity squad." And you can bet that next year Jim Myers will be a first-string varsity member—provided Lady Luck will give him a helping hand.

"SMOKING OUT" THE FACTS about nicotine. Experts, chemists analyze the smoke of 5 of the largest-selling brands... find that the smoke of slower-burning Camels contains 28% less nicotine than the average of the other brands tested—less than any of them!

By burning 25% slower than the average of the 4 other largest-selling brands tested—slower than any of them—Camels also give you a smoking plus equal, on the average, to 5 EXTRA SMOKES PER PACK!

YES, the smoke's the thing! After all, you don't get anything from a cigarette until you've lighted it... until it's burning. And there is the secret of an advantage Camel smokers have enjoyed for years. For Camel's costlier tobaccos are slower-burning.

Slower-burning for more coolness and mildness—for Camels are free from the excess heat and irritating qualities of too-fast burning. Slower-burning for more flavor because slow burning preserves tobacco flavor and fragrance.

Now Science confirms still another advantage—less nicotine in the smoke—less than any of the four other largest-selling brands tested... 28% less than the average!
